

Grant applications are now being received for

The Sam Solomon Trust Fund for Underprivileged Children

When Sam Solomon established this $1,000,000 trust fund just prior to his death in 1989, it was the embodiment of a life-long philanthropic commitment to social development and, in particular, the well-being of underprivileged children.

Administered by the Jewish Community Foundation, the Sam Solomon Trust Fund is dedicated to fostering Canadian initiative and enterprise in the social, economic, cultural, and educational development of underprivileged children. It provides funding to non-profit, creative and innovative projects geared to enhancing and improving the well - being of children in need. It promotes the development and sharing of new ideas which have potentially lasting value. It invests in dynamic people and organizations whose ventures contribute practical solutions to the emerging problems affecting the condition of less fortunate children.

Supporting Canadian initiatives for the social, economic, cultural and educational development of children in need.
